PPI Releasing has a commitment from the Hearst, Graham Media and Weigel groups to launch Cityline, its daily one-hour lifestyle talk show, in fall 2017.

Produced by Rogers Media of Canada, Cityline is a long-running daytime show. PPI is syndicating the series on a cash/no barter basis with 200 episodes confirmed when it launches.

Cityline is hosted by Tracy Moore, who features guest experts about topics including fashion, food, entertaining, health and beauty, home design and gardening.

“At a time of change in daytime television, Cityline offers value, stability and a proven track record,” said PPI principal Ritch Colbert. “We are grateful to have these renowned broadcasters make such a vote of confidence in our show.”
